INTRODUCTION

The Timekeeping Workflow in PROCAS Time

PROCAS Time is a timekeeping system that you access using a web browser. Your administrator will provide you with your company's unique web address and login information.

The PROCAS Time User Instructions are intended to provide guidance on the use of PROCAS software to record total time worked. This document assumes that the owners and/or management of the company have collaborated with a PROCAS consultant to complete the initial setup of the system and that the system is currently in operation. It is not within the scope of these instructions to teach accounting or government contracting. It is within the scope of these instructions to document what steps must be taken in the software to record time.

You must record hours on timesheets, on a daily basis, and against appropriate charge codes. The federal government requires that personnel classify their hours based on how those hours are spent. For example, hours worked on a particular contract assignment must be recorded separately from hours spent training or for paid time off. At the end of each period, you must submit your timesheet for approval.

If your timesheet is disapproved by your supervisor or project manager, it is your responsibility to correct the errors and then resubmit your timesheet for approval.

Notes and tips have been added throughout these instructions. Notes provide additional information about system operation. Tips provide helpful, but not essential, suggestions for system use. Reading the notes and tips is recommended for a more complete understanding of system operation.

MAKE AN OPEN TIMESHEET INACTIVE

An open timesheet can be made inactive, which for practical purposes means deleting the timesheet with an audit trail. A timesheet cannot be reactivated once it has been made inactive, but you can create a new timesheet for the same period if necessary.

Here's how to make an open timesheet inactive:

1. On the Timesheet menu, select the appropriate period from the Make an Open Timesheet Inactive list.
2. Click Go next to Make an Open Timesheet Inactive.
3. Type the reason for the deactivation in the Reason box.

WARNING: Once a timesheet is deactivated, the information CANNOT be restored.

4. Click OK.

NOTE: You can create a new timesheet for the timesheet period that has been deactivated. The new timesheet will have an audit trail that lists all of the time detail information that has been deactivated.
